10 Campaign cabinet named

Forging Our Futures, UNB's most ambitious fund-raising campaign ever, has kicked into high gear with the naming of the campaign cabinet.

12 Top undergraduate scholars

Thanks to the support of UNB Chancellor Richard Currie, four young Atlantic Canadians are studying at UNB this academic year under the university's most prestigious renewable scholarships.

19 40 years of UNB Saint John

The UNB Saint John Action Team laid on a full weekend of activities in September to mark that campus's 40th anniversary.

At the Office of the UNB Associated Alumni, we care about your privacy and take the matter very seriously. We recognize that our alumni are concerned about the information we maintain and how that information is used. As the basis for our own policy, we follow Canada's Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA).

Thank you for supporting today's students

Among the many privileges I have as president is attending events where I have an opportunity to meet and be with those who most represent what UNB is all about — our students.

In November, two such events were organized by the alumni staff. They were receptions, one on each of our main campuses, where I extended congratulations on behalf of our membership to students who were Alumni and Alumnae scholarship and award recipients. The recipients, whom we recognize for their academic and athletic excellence, and community involvement, are students of high quality and we look to them to be the leaders of tomorrow. It is difficult to put into words the heart-felt appreciation and gratitude they express for the financial support they receive. (See page 23)

In my remarks, I reminded the students that they too will become members of the UNB Associated Alumni, and encouraged them to keep in touch with their alma mater by being energized and involved in the work of the association.

However, there is another group I would like to recognize and thank on behalf of the students and their parents. That group is you — our alumni. Let me share with you some information about our scholarship program, and what you have done.

The Associated Alumni represents more than 57,000 UNB graduates, including more than 6,000 from UNBSJ, who live around the world. At some point in our lives, each of us was where our scholarship recipients are today — we were students at UNB. Over the more than 141 years since the association was founded, a practice has evolved whereby today's students are helped by yesterday's students through our scholarships and awards program.

This tradition has developed to the point that the UNB Associated Alumni, through your support, contributed approximately $90,000 this year to our scholarship program. More than 100 students on the Fredericton and Saint John campuses received the following scholarships and awards: UNB Associated Alumni Leadership Awards, Alumni Undergraduate Scholarships, UNB Alumni Merit Awards, Alumni Entrance Scholarships, Nursing Alumni Scholarship, John Gilchrist Associated Alumni Engineering Scholarship, Anne Murray Alumni Scholarship, Dr. A. Foster Baird Alumni Scholarship, Ottawa Alumni Chapter Thomas Foulkes Sr. Scholarship, Toronto Alumni Chapter Fredrik S. Eaton Scholarship, Alumnae Entrance Scholarship, Alumnae Undergraduate Scholarships, Dr. Bernice L. MacNaughton Memorial Alumnae Scholarship, Associated Alumnae Athletic Award, Zula V. Hallett Alumnae Scholarship in Kinesiology, Muriel Farris Baird Alumnae Scholarship, and the Marion Fleet Rogers Alumnae Scholarship.

This type of support is paramount. UNB President John McLaughlin points out UNB saw a 50-per-cent increase this year in the number of first-year students entering with averages of more than 90 per cent in their final year of high school. He notes that a top priority in the "Forging our Futures" capital campaign is scholarships and bursaries.

Again, thank you to our many alumni who provide support for our scholarships program, support that I am certain instills a sense of pride and loyalty in our members.

Finally, I would be remiss if I did not single out for special mention and thanks Kathy Waugh, UNB's assistant registrar, undergraduate awards, who selects our scholarship and award recipients, and Heather Neilson, our alumni scholarship committee Chair, and her committee members, who choose our Leadership Award recipients.

Our scholarships and awards program is indeed a team effort, one we will continue to move forward with your help. All the best in 2005!

Carey A. Ryan

President,
UNB Associated Alumni

Don't delay . . . register for Homecoming 2005 today!

The push is on, the push to get as many of you as possible to register as soon as possible for Homecoming 2005.

As you've no doubt noted from our cover, Celtic fiddler Natalie MacMaster will be appearing at the Aitken Centre Saturday evening, but that's only part of the July 28-31 Homecoming package. See pages 14-18 for details about our entire slate of activities . . . we're sure there's something for everyone. A registration package is in the centre of this edition, but we're encouraging everyone to visit our website at www.unb.ca/alumni to take advantage of our online registration form. It's quick and simple.

Homecoming 2005 offers you the chance to re-connect with friends you may not have seen for years, and with the university itself. And it's an opportunity for you to become energized and involved with the Associated Alumni.

Elsewhere in this edition, you'll see a number of items related to student scholarships. As our president Carey Ryan has already mentioned above, the importance of financial support for today's students cannot be underestimated.

On page 8 you'll find a list of some of the newly-established scholarships and prizes at UNB, while on pages 10 and 12 you'll learn about new scholarships being financed through the Forging Our Futures capital campaign. Finally, on pages 13 and 14, we highlight four students who were the recipients this year of UNB's prestigious Blake-Kirkpatrick Undergraduate Scholarships. Read what they have to say about what their scholarships have meant to them, and you'll understand why student assistance is a top priority at UNB.

UNIVERSITY OF NEW BRUNSWICK BE PROUD OF IT. BE PART OF IT.

WE ARE PROUDLY UNB...

For us, believing in New Brunswick means believing in our university. We are Proudly UNB, a group of alumni from the University of New Brunswick that devote time to building awareness and support for our alma mater. Our goal is simple... get the message out that the university is vitally important to our province... to our industries and communities, and for our future.

PROUD AND PROACTIVE...

UNB is as old as the province itself. It has a long, proud history of graduating those who have built New Brunswick. It continues that tradition today. Those of us involved with Proudly UNB are extremely proud to have graduated from the University of New Brunswick and we want to actively inform, motivate and involve those who feel the same way. Because when it comes down to it, UNB generates the energy as to where our province can go by the graduates who will take it there.

BUILDING AND PROVIDING SUPPORT...

Proudly UNB wants to create a dialogue for, and between, our alumni here and around the globe. This dialogue will speak our message to companies and governments, students enrolled and those yet to come, that UNB is crucial to the future of our province. Together, we will be UNB's voice and speak loudly as to its importance and the necessity of our joint support.

Fastest in the World: The Saga of Canada's Revolutionary Hydrofoils

By John Boileau (BA'66)
Formac Publishing Company Limited
ISBN 0-88780-621-X

Hydrofoils were born in the search for the perfect flying machine. In 1919, after years of trials, Alexander Graham Bell and his young collaborator, Casey Baldwin, broke a world speed record when their hydrofoil, HD-4, skimmed across Cape Breton's Bras d'Or Lakes at 61.5 knots. This book is a complete re-examination of Canadian research into hydrofoil vessels in the 20th century. It describes how Baldwin and his colleagues, generously supported by Mabel Bell and under the guidance of the great inventor, built and tested numerous prototypes until they finally succeeded in building a high-speed hydrofoil. By the end of the Second World War, Canada had the third largest navy in the world and was set to be at the forefront of anti-submarine warfare. The book introduces the team of naval architects and engineers who tested prototypes in Halifax Harbour in the 1950s and 1960s. Their efforts led to HMCS Bras d'Or, the ultra-modern hydrofoil vessel that established another world record before it was sadly mothballed. Like the Avro Arrow story, Fastest in the World exposes how brilliant innovation is no guarantee of success for Canadian designers.

Poems for the Christmas Season

By Robert Hawkes (BA'56, BEd'64) with Illustrations by Peggy and Todd Hawkes
Broken Jaw Press
ISBN:1-55391-033-8

Ranging from descriptions of traditional Christmas religious events to family happenings and situations evoking thoughts and moments that arise from the impact of Christmas on the author and those around him, the poems relate moments when the Christmas experience brings out both hope and strength in the lives of people.

Truth to Tell: Stories from Here and Away

By Allison (Brown) Mitcham (MA'54, PhD'72)
DreamCatcher Publishing
ISBN:1-894372-30-1

A collection of short stories that range widely in theme, from the very popular "The Whaler" in which the first person narrator naively buys a boat on Canada's east coast, to "Down River Cook" in which she cooks for "sports" in a camp in the far northwest of the country. The stories have been described as having a distinctive Maritime flavor, and are well-crafted, thoughtfully presented short stories. From "Truth to Tell," the title story, to "Never Kid a Kidder," these stories will please and amuse the reader.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in the Fall 2004 edition of UNB Alumni News that Lynn Hruczkowski (Fraser, BA'82) of Edmonton was elected to the Associated Alumni Council in the spring elections. Rather, David Le Blanc (BBA'82) of Ottawa was elected, while Ms. Hruczkowski continues as a member of council. The Alumni News regrets the error.

University adopts land-management plan

UNB's Land Management Strategy is being described as visionary and responsible.

"Land is one of UNB's key assets, both as an important resource for teaching and research, and as an endowment that can generate revenue and support our mission," said UNB President John D. McLaughlin.

UNB's land endowment dates back to 1800 when the university was granted substantial tracts by King George III. The lands were intended for the university's support. Today, through acquisitions and donations, UNB's endowment comprises nearly 8,300 acres in 11 locations throughout N.B.

"First and foremost we will seek to conserve and preserve UNB's ecologically, educationally and environmentally valuable land holdings," Dr. McLaughlin said.

Secondly, UNB will seek to develop — over the next century — lands that are not identified as conservation lands.

"If UNB is to continue to serve this province and this region as a leading, national university, it is imperative that we develop revenue streams beyond tuition income and government grants," said Dr. McLaughlin. "Having said that, it is important to note that we are committed to gradual, thoughtful and responsible land development."

UNB has used the Land Management Strategy to guide plans for the Fredericton campus, the Saint John campus, and the UNB Woodlot — UNB's most significant holding.

"We've experienced a great deal of pressure over the years to develop sections of the woodlot," said Mike Ryan, associate vice-president (campus services and planning). "What our strategy allows us to do, is to look at the big picture, to think long range, and to make decisions on our terms."

Following extensive consultation, and with the input of environmental consultants and experts on habitat and rare species, UNB has designated 50 per cent of the 3,815 acre UNB Woodlot as green space.

"This area of the woodlot will be protected from development in perpetuity," said Mr. Ryan. "It will be available for teaching, research and recreation, while ensuring that ecological sensitive areas are protected. To put it in context, the protected area is four times the size of Odell Park."

Now that the protected area has been established, the university is moving forward with a concept plan for the mixed-use development of 270 acres, or seven per cent of the woodlot. The timeframe for the development of this area, which lies between Regent Street and Kimble Road, is 2005-2015.

"The concept plan is a mixed-use urban village with a 60-acre commercial/retail area, a 150-acre mixed residential area, and a 60-acre business park/prestige industrial area," said Mr. Ryan. "The plan emphasizes tree preservation, a diversity of land uses, housing choice, a high level of community amenities, parks and open spaces, a public trail network, and an emphasis on pedestrian use."

Information about UNB's Land Management Strategy and Woodlot Implementation Plan is available online at www.unb.ca/lms.

Honors bestowed at fall Convocations

Alumni support for area food banks

The UNB Associated Alumni stepped up to the plate again this past holiday season in support of area food banks in Fredericton and Saint John. Through the sale of tree ornaments to alumni from both our main campuses, $500 was raised for the Fredericton Food Bank and $500 for the Saint John Food Bank. As well, a donation of $2,000 to the Fredericton Food Bank and $1,000 to the Saint John Food Bank was made by the Associated Alumni as a result of so many of you responding to our alumni survey (see Page 21). Finally, many boxes of canned and dry goods were given to the Fredericton Food Bank as a result of donations made by alumni at our holiday reception. In the photo at right, Audrey Lockhart, left, co-director of Fredericton Community Services, is shown with Association President Carey Ryan during the Fredericton reception.

RESEARCH

Computing at UNB: Advanced lab crosses disciplines

Over the past few decades, technology has transformed our lives. We live in a wired world, where technology can fit in the palm of our hands. However, researchers at UNB are interested in more hefty matters — a new supercomputer weighing more than five medium-sized vehicles.

UNB Fredericton houses the most powerful publicly accessible high performance computing, or supercomputing, research facility in Atlantic Canada and the only one of its kind in N.B.

With the assistance of the Advanced Computational Research Laboratory (ACRL), researchers across disciplines use these facilities to solve problems and gain new research insights.

The Canadian Potato Genome Project uses ACRL facilities for the sequencing and analysis of genes expressed in potato tubers. These genes will be critical for a variety of important traits, including disease and pest resistance, and various tuber quality traits. The project brings together industry, academia, and government to gain more knowledge about the potato.

Rising health-care costs are of concern to all Canadians, and no less so at UNB. Using ACRL facilities, the department of chemistry and faculty of computer science are developing new drugs to combat diseases and illnesses. The department of mechanical engineering has also developed new methods to reduce X-ray exposure times.

Through ACEnet (Atlantic Computational Excellent Network), UNB is poised to dramatically increase its research computing facilities yet again.

ACEnet is a consortium of universities that is creating high-performance-computing facilities to advance research across a range of disciplines.

With the credo “People. Research. Excellence.” and a project size of nearly $28 million, ACEnet aims to increase advanced collaboration and research in Atlantic Canada.

Scholarships, prizes, bursaries at UNB

Scholarships, prizes and bursaries are an increasingly vital component of the assistance UNB offers its students. In this space from time to time, Alumni News will highlight new or existing awards available to qualified students.

Cook Family Bursary

A bursary awarded on the basis of financial need to a Saint John campus student who is enrolled in the bachelor of arts program. Eligible applicants have declared a major in English and have demonstrated successful academic performance. The recipient of the bursary must be a graduate of a high school in the Greater Saint John area. This bursary is funded by the Cook Family Fund, a permanently endowed fund of the Greater Saint John Community Foundation

Albert J. & T. Ferne O. Currie Memorial Scholarship

A scholarship awarded to a student who has graduated from an N.B. high school and has completed at least the minimum requirements for the first year of a degree program. Preference will be given to the student who intends to pursue a career in health care. Selection will be based on scholastic attainment and financial need. This scholarship has been funded by the family of Albert & Ferne Currie and the N.B. University Opportunities Fund.

James F. & Gertrude (Currie) Edwards Memorial Bursary

Awarded on the basis of financial need to a student beginning an undergraduate degree program who has attended either Nackawic High School or Keswick Ridge School and has demonstrated successful academic performance. This bursary has been funded by Joan Edwards and the N.B. University Opportunities Fund.

Dr. Donald (Digger)

Gorman Prize in Geology

A prize to be awarded annually on the recommendation of the department of geology to an outstanding Fredericton campus student entering the second year of the bachelor of science program who achieves high standing in geology. The prize has been funded by Donald (Digger) Gorman.

H.H. (Mike) Mikaelian Memorial Prize

A prize awarded to a Fredericton campus undergraduate research student in psychology. The recipient must be in good academic standing, have intentions of pursuing a career in psychology, be involved in research activities and actively demonstrate curiosity, commitment, and passion for the search of knowledge and understanding in the field of psychology. The prize is funded by the family, friends, former students and colleagues of the late Dr. H. H. (Mike) Mikaelian.

Dr. Richard Papenhausen Bursary for Part-time Students

A bursary created in memory of former UNB Saint John Student Life and Support Services Director Dr. Richard Papenhausen. It is open to part-time Saint John campus undergraduate students who have not been enrolled in full-time studies in the previous 12 months. Selection of recipients is based on scholastic achievement and financial need. The deadline for applications is Aug. 15 for fall awards, Dec. 1 for winter awards, and April 15 for spring and summer awards. The bursary is funded by UNB Saint John.

UNBSJ 40th Anniversary Celebration Bursary

Created in honor of UNB Saint John's 40th anniversary, the bursary is awarded on the basis of financial need to a Saint John campus student. It is open to students who have completed at least the minimum requirements of the first year of a degree program and have achieved a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.5. Preference will be given to students with extracurricular involvement on campus and within the Greater Saint John community. This bursary is funded by the university, on the recommendation of Student Life and Support Services, UNB Saint John.

G. Reginald Underwood Memorial Scholarship in Forest Entomology

A graduate scholarship awarded to a student in the faculty of forestry and environmental management. Selection will be based on academic excellence. This scholarship was established from a bequest of Mr. G. Reginald Underwood, a 1949 forestry graduate and a long-time supporter of UNB.

If you would like to establish an award or contribute to a present award, please contact the Office of Development & Donor Relations at 1-877-UNB-GIVE (862-4483) or e-mail the office at giving@unbfutures.ca.

UNB spends $1.9M on scholarships for high school students

UNB provided a record $1.9 million in scholarships to high school students this September thanks to a nearly 50-per-cent jump in the number of 'A' students entering undergraduate programs. This increase comes as UNB prepares to raise millions of dollars for new scholarships through its new fundraising campaign — Forging Our Futures.

Almost 100 more high school students with a grade average of 90 per cent or above accepted admission into the first year of a UNB undergraduate program this September compared to last year. Fredericton had an increase of 63 students and Saint John saw an increase of 34.

"This year we have one of the most outstanding groups of undergraduate students UNB has ever had," said UNB President John McLaughlin. "Top high school students are choosing UNB because we are recognized around the world as a leading national university that offers a first-class education and student experience."

All high school students who enter UNB with a 90 per cent scholarship average or above are guaranteed at least a $1,500 scholarship. The $1.9-million awarded this fall to high school students accepted into an undergraduate program amounts to an increase of $700,000 from the year before. UNBF students will receive an estimated $1.3-million and UNB Saint John students will receive $549,000.

Continuing undergraduate students are also seeing similar increases. The number of continuing UNB undergraduates earning an A- or better increased by 107 (or 9.8 per cent) over last year. Awards to these students are expected to increase 14 per cent to $1.85-million.

"We must thank the many donors who have contributed to scholarships at UNB," said Dr. McLaughlin. "Their support for students and for this university is helping us educate a new generation, find solutions with new research and contribute to the economic, social and cultural prosperity of this province."

Scotiabank donates heritage building to UNBSJ

Peter Bessey with the Bank of Nova Scotia building in the background

The Bank of Nova Scotia has donated its Charlotte Street and King Square building to UNB Saint John.

The four-storey, art deco building, constructed in the 1920s and operated by Scotiabank since 1940, is situated in Saint John's heritage district and is considered a signature building in Saint John's Uptown. The announcement of the gift was made during UNB Saint John's gala 40th anniversary dinner in October.

"When thinking about the future of this building, Saint John's growth strategy was top of mind for us," said Peter Bessey (BBA'86), the bank's district vice-president, West New Brunswick. "We believe the University of New Brunswick Saint John will play a vital role in the community growth strategy and that having an Uptown presence will impact the broadest range of people."

UNB Saint John is grateful for Scotiabank's donation of its building. It will allow UNB Saint John a greater presence in the Uptown in close proximity to many of its community partners. The university's commitment to the social, cultural, and economic development of Saint John will be well represented at this impressive physical location.

"We applaud the strategic vision of Scotiabank for making a donation that provides tangible benefits to both the university and the community," said Dr. Kathryn Hamer, vice-president UNB Saint John. "This foresight recognizes UNB's unique role as a public institution and the important relationship we have with our community."

An internal discussion will take place over the course of the next few months to complement the university's campus planning process and determine the most appropriate use for the building.

Researchers receive CFI support

Two new faculty members at UNB Fredericton have received more than $93,000 in support of their research from the Canada Foundation for Innovation (CFI).

Jeff Rankin of the faculty of engineering received $70,759 for an Interactive Collaboration Lab for the architectural, engineering and construction (AEC) industry. Victoria Chester of the faculty of kinesiology was awarded $22,986 for biomechanics infrastructure for her clinical gait research.

Dr. Rankin holds the M. Patrick Gillin Chair in Construction Engineering at UNBF. His research involves the management of construction projects and addresses the challenges of dealing with large amounts of complex information within fragmented organizational structures.

Dr. Chester's research focuses on assessing treatments for children with abnormal walking patterns. "Knowledge of which treatments are most effective will lead to more successful treatment interventions, improved function for the patient and reduced health care costs," explained Dr. Chester.

The funding awarded to Drs. Rankin and Chester was part of a recent national announcement of $23.7 million to researchers at 32 institutions.

A farewell dinner was held in November for outgoing UNBF athletic director Clint Hamilton, who is assuming the same position at his alma mater, the University of Victoria. Proceeds from the dinner went to the establishment of the Hamilton Family Scholarship. Above, Clint, son Jake, 8, daughter Whitney, 11, and wife Lorraine, far right, display a quilt presented to them. The quilt was made by Leslie Forbes (BPE'75), second from right, of Riverview, N.B., from various V-Reds T-shirts that appeared during Clint's 12 years at UNB.

The Year of Forging Our Futures

FORGING
CAMPAIGN UNB

Forging Our Futures campaign, the most important development campaign in UNB's more-than-200-year history, will be launched in 2005. The campaign will honor our past, celebrate our present successes and chart a course for the future. Forging Our Futures will transform our university, making key investments in students, faculty, programs and facilities.

The campaign has been two years in the making. The list of campaign priorities has been drawn up, the campaign secretariat has been created, the Family Campaign for faculty, staff and retirees has begun. And in late November, another major milestone on the road to the public launch was reached with the announcement of the campaign cabinet.

Made up of business and community leaders from across Canada, the United States and China, as well as senior university officials, the 54-member cabinet will help guide the campaign. Heading the cabinet is chair Allison McCain, who is chairman of McCain Foods Limited. The cabinet includes a number of well-known UNB graduates, such as UNB Chancellor Richard Currie, chairman of Bell Canada Enterprises (BCE) Inc., and Frank McKenna, former New Brunswick premier and UNB law graduate, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the university in 1988.

The cabinet includes a number of national business leaders, such as Tony Comper, president and CEO of BMO Financial Group; Douglas Caldwell, chairman of The Caldwell Partners International; John Dowd, president of EDS Canada; George Estey, chairman and managing director of Goldman, Sachs Canada Inc.; and Marvin MaGee, president of Celestica Inc. It also includes business leaders from Atlantic Canada, such as Jay Forbes, president and CEO of Aliant Inc.; Derek Oland, chairman and CEO of Moosehead Breweries Ltd.; Eloi Duguay, president of Jim Pattison Sign Group; and David Ganong, president of Ganong Brothers Ltd. and chair of the UNB Board of Governors. Entertainer Anne Murray is also a cabinet member as are former UNB Chancellor Fredrik Eaton and former presidents Elizabeth Parr-Johnston and Robin Armstrong.

"The participation of these outstanding individuals as members of our cabinet is an endorsement of our vision for UNB's future," said John McLaughlin, president and vice-chancellor. "Our cabinet is comprised of leaders from across the country and beyond who are stepping forward to say that they believe in this university and where we want to take it."

Even though the campaign hasn't officially started, Forging Our Futures has received a number of key donations. In October, ADI Group made a $600,000 contribution towards environmental engineering at UNB. The global engineering company that was born at UNB in Fredericton nearly 60 years ago is making a commitment to a new professorship and a graduate scholarship in industrial wastewater treatment.

In October, ADI Group announced a $600,000 contribution towards environmental engineering at UNB. The global engineering company that was born at the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton nearly 60 years ago is making a commitment to a new professorship and a graduate scholarship in industrial wastewater treatment as part of its support for Forging Our Futures. From left, are David Coleman, dean of engineering at UNBF; Forging Our Futures Campaign Chairman Allison McCain; Hollis Cole (BS&CE'72), CEO of ADI Group; Robert Landine, the new ADI Industrial Wastewater Research adjunct professor; and UNB President John McLaughlin.

“This is an outstanding donation by one of Atlantic Canada’s premier engineering firms,” said Dr. McLaughlin. “It’s made all the more special because, to us, ADI is like family. We’ve been partners in research and education for almost 60 years.”

ADI Group was founded in 1945 by a group of UNB Fredericton civil engineering professors. As ADI has grown, so too has its relationship with UNB. It has been a prime collaborator in research with the faculty of engineering.

“Giving back to the university means a great deal to our company,” said Hollis Cole, P.Eng., CEO of ADI Group Inc. “We started here, have remained committed over the years, and today we are continuing that commitment. It is important to maintain excellence in the field of engineering, which helps to secure the future of our company, our industry, and the future of New Brunswick.”

In an unique arrangement, Robert Landine, P.Eng., a world-renowned industrial wastewater management specialist, will be seconded to UNB Fredericton for five years. He will join the department of civil engineering as the ADI Industrial Wastewater Research Adjunct Professor. The ADI Industrial Wastewater Treatment Scholarship, valued at $15,000 annually, will be awarded to a graduate student pursuing studies in industrial wastewater treatment.

Also in October, Scotiabank donated the historic building located at King Square and Charlotte Street in Uptown Saint John to the university. The signature building will give UNB Saint John a greater presence in the Uptown in close proximity to many of its community partners.

And in November, the Hart family announced a major gift to support scholarships in geology and geological engineering at UNB. John Hart, the founder of MGI, and his wife Elaine, have committed $100,000 to the Hart Family Scholarship in Geological Engineering and the Margaree Scholarship in Geology.

“The Harts are a shining example of the contributions our alumni are making to our collective futures,” said Dr. McLaughlin. “The ability to transform lives is what makes UNB so meaningful – and this donation from John and Elaine Hart will transform lives. This is a tremendous gift from two local alumni, one that will provide much needed support to our students, and one I believe will inspire others to join with us in our Forging Our Futures campaign.”

The Harts are both UNB graduates. Originally from Cape Breton, John Hart graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1974. In the mid-1980s, Mr. Hart founded Maritime Groundwater, now MGI, a professional environmental services firm that employs 80 people across the region. Elaine Hart, who is from Fredericton, graduated from the faculty of administration in 1973.

“My career in hydrogeology began following graduation from UNB and my success has been due in large part to empowering others who have assisted greatly in growing our company,” said John Hart. “Our donation to the geology and geological

In November, the Hart family announced a major gift to support scholarships in geology and geological engineering at UNB. At the announcement were, from left, Dean of Science Allan Sharp; UNB President John McLaughlin; John Hart (BSc'74); Elaine Hart (BBA'73); and Dean of Engineering David Coleman.

‘UNB is one of the great institutions of this province and this country. It has been so very much a part of our past and will undoubtedly be a critical part of our future. I’m not just a graduate of UNB, I’m a believer. This is a university that is worth sustaining, and Forging Our Futures is a campaign worth supporting.’

engineering departments will permit others to attend UNB, and following graduation and mentoring, they will take their place in society, contribute to their community and complete the circle by helping others to succeed. Leadership plays such a large part in everyday life and I believe that all who are in leadership positions need to do their part to develop leaders for tomorrow.”

Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarship winners Brendan Wood, Jessica Yeates, Sean Hayman and Megan Hurley with UNB Chancellor Richard Currie

Four first-year students awarded UNB's top renewable scholarships

Four deserving young students from the Atlantic Provinces are studying at UNB this academic year thanks to the fond memories UNB Chancellor Richard James Currie has of his grandmothers.

Dr. Currie, a Saint John, N.B., native who was installed as chancellor in May 2003 and is one of Canada's most accomplished business leaders, established The Blake-Kirkpatrick Undergraduate Scholarships in the names of his grandmothers, Ida Mae Blake, who married James Adam Johnstone, and Jannet Kirkpatrick, who married James Henderson Currie.

"My two grandmothers were generous, warm hearted and caring, as was my own mother, who then added 'demanding' to my gene pool," said Dr. Currie.

CAMPAIGN UNB

The scholarships, two awarded annually to students in engineering and two awarded annually to non-engineering students, are UNB's most prestigious renewable awards. They are among the most valuable individually-funded scholarships offered at Canadian universities.

This year, Sean Hayman of St. Stephen, N.B., who graduated from St. Stephen High School, and Brendan Wood of Deer Lake, NL, who graduated from Elwood Regional High School, were each awarded a Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarship in Engineering valued at $55,000 over five years. Mr. Hayman and Mr. Wood are currently studying on UNB's Fredericton campus in the civil engineering and the mechanical engineering programs, respectively.

Megan Hurley of Bloomfield, N.B., who graduated from Hampton High School, and Jessica Yeates of New Maryland, N.B., who graduated from Fredericton High School, were each awarded a Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarship valued at $45,000 over four years. Ms. Hurley is studying on the Saint John campus in the science program and Ms. Yeates is studying on the Fredericton campus in the science program.

The scholarships are open to students beginning a degree program upon graduating from a high school in any of the four Atlantic Provinces and are intended to support the education of future leaders. A rigorous application and selection process is required of candidates.

They have to demonstrate outstanding academic achievement, and submit an essay to a selection committee indicating their leadership in their schools and communities, and their ability to overcome challenges in their lives.

Finally, this year's 11 finalists out of more than 180 applicants were brought to Fredericton for two days of interviews by the selection committee, which was recruited by Dr. Currie and consisted of C. Elizabeth Meier (BA'71, MSc'75, BScN'86) of Bedford, N.S., and formerly of Saint John, Rev. James W. Golding (LTh'63, Class of '66) of Saint John, and Dr. Earle W. Wood (BSc'59, BEd'67, MA'69, DLitt'98) of Rothesay, N.B.

It was a gruelling process, but one that was in itself an education, according to the scholarship recipients.

“Personally, this was my first interview experience and it was quite frightening and stressful, but also was such an amazing learning experience,” said Ms. Yeates. “I met many wonderful people I will never forget.”

Her sentiments were echoed by Mr. Wood.

“I was very pleased with the selection process because UNB made it clear they wanted me to study here,” he said. “I was rather nervous about the interview, but was pleasantly surprised to find myself sitting around a table with three close friends and family members of Dr. Currie, basically just chewing the fat. They are all fascinating people and make great conversation.”

Dr. Currie, who was a Beaverbrook Scholar at UNB, currently serves as the chairman of Bell Canada Enterprises (BCE) Inc. He is a member of the Canadian Business Hall of Fame and, for his leadership of Loblaw Companies Ltd. and George Weston Ltd., was recognized as CEO of the Year in 2001.

The Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarships were first established by Dr. Currie in 1988. At the time, one scholarship was awarded for chemical engineering and one for history, and they carried a value of up to $10,000 over four years. Up until the current academic year, Dr. Currie had contributed more than $230,000 in scholarships.

Now, he has greatly enhanced his support, and the example he has set by expanding both the size and the scope of the Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarships hasn't gone unnoticed by this year's recipients.

“Scholarships are so beneficial to students attending university and I hope that someday I can give back to UNB as Dr. Richard Currie has,” said Ms. Yeates. “I also hope that others will do the same.”

“Dr. Currie has afforded me a tremendous gift, one that I can't possibly ever repay him for,” said Mr. Wood. “However, I intend to carry on the spirit of Dr. Currie and all other generous scholarship donors by passing on the gift that I have been granted, an education.”

EDITOR'S NOTE: The university and its donors are pleased to provide financial support to students through the granting of scholarships. For more information about the Blake-Kirkpatrick and other scholarships, see www.unb.ca/scholarships. For information about contributing to a UNB scholarship program, please contact the Office of Development and Donor Relations at 1-877-UNB Give (862-4483).

The winners, in their own words . . .

Sean Hayman, St. Stephen, N.B., engineering

“The Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarship I received from Dr. Currie has allowed me to concentrate almost all of my time toward my studies. Unlike others who have to obtain part-time jobs to attend university, most of my time outside the classroom can be spent on assignments and other school-related topics.

“This is important in terms of keeping my marks up now, while looking down the road toward studying for a master's degree or even a PhD. The scholarship also will allow me to use the money I can save while doing my undergraduate work to go toward the cost of graduate studies.

“As for the interview process, I loved the experience. Meeting with the selection committee offered me the chance to get to know them, and for them to get to know me a little better before they made their final decisions on who would receive the Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarships. It also allowed me to see what other kinds of students the university thought were worthy recipients of the scholarships. I truly consider myself fortunate to have been chosen to receive one of them.”

Megan Hurley, Bloomfield, N.B., science

“I was very honored to be a recipient of this outstanding award. Just to have all my hard work and determination recognized was enough, and then to receive the Blake-Kirkpatrick Scholarship was truly amazing. With this scholarship I am able to reach my true potential in life, whereas without it the costs would have held me back. This scholarship gives the recipients such a leg up in life because basically all of our fees are paid for our undergraduate degrees, as long as we keep our grades up, and only leaves us with graduate school to worry about.

“The interview process was great. The interviewers were very nice and made me feel comfortable. I found that this process was a tremendous learning experience on its own. It put me in the position that I will be in during interviews later in life when the pressure is on and there is a lot at stake.

“I just want to thank Dr. Richard Currie again for his amazing scholarships. I am so grateful to have received one.”

Brendan Wood, Deer Lake, NL, engineering

“Being selected to receive such a substantial and prestigious scholarship has changed my life. If I hadn't received this scholarship, I would likely be attending either Queen's University or Memorial University of Newfoundland. However, in either of the latter two cases, I certainly wouldn't be as well off financially as I am here at UNB, or indeed academically, with regards to the study-friendly residence I'm living in. Thanks to this generous gift of a free undergraduate degree from Dr. Currie, I won't have to get a student loan to pay for my education. This opens up doors for me to easily move into graduate studies, without worrying about paying off a student loan. This scholarship ensures that I get a head start on my future, and that I am not hindered by the debt of tens of thousands of dollars.

“Regardless of whether or not I won the scholarship, I still would have been left with an overwhelmingly good impression of Dr. Currie, the selection board, the other finalists, and the University of New Brunswick.”

Jessica Yeates, New Maryland, N.B., science

“Being the recipient of such an incredible and prestigious award as the Blake-Kirkpatrick scholarship is an honor. It's not simply based on high academic standing or athletic ability but on the basis of community leadership, academics, and overcoming a personal struggle in life. I've never been the best student, best athlete or best anything, but that's not what life is about.

“I worked as hard as I could at everything that I did and in the end it wasn't about being the best, but being a strong and dedicated person. This scholarship has shown me that other people also appreciate and recognize others for their well roundedness and their ability to do well for themselves and for others around them.

“This scholarship allows me to concentrate on my studies. I don't have to worry about my next paycheck or how many more hours I would need to work to pay off my tuition or student loan.

“Not only can I concentrate on my studies, I can continue with all of the other activities I love to do that I was recognized for by the scholarship in the first place.”

Natalie MacMaster to headline Homecoming 2005

The program's all set, the registration form is in this magazine — and better yet it's online — and Celtic fiddling sensation Natalie MacMaster is booked as the headline act for Homecoming 2005 July 28-31.

Now all we need is you!

By the time you read this, Homecoming will be only six months away. Time is short, so don't delay. Visit us online at www.unb.ca/alumni or use the registration form in the centre section of this edition to register today. However, we're encouraging as many of you as possible to opt for our online form, which will expedite the registration and tracking process on our end.

And please register as early as possible, most importantly because seating at some of our premiere events will be limited, and tickets will be going on a first-come, first-served basis.

All of what you need to know about Homecoming 2005, which is being presented by your UNB Associated Alumni and its co-partner, the UNB Varsity Reds, is on the next four pages. Our program is to the right. A list of our small groups appears on pages 16 and 17. Check out the list and see if a group you were affiliated with is there, and, if so, jump on board. And if your group isn't there, seize the bull by the horns and get your own small group going. Just contact Barb MacMullin, at (506) 447-3371, reunions@unb.ca.

For information on Faculty Fest, a list of faculty-based activities, planned for the afternoon of Friday, July 29, see page 17. We've also arranged for special Homecoming 2005 rates at local hotels and motels (including the UNB residence system). See page 18.

We're confident Homecoming 2005 will have something to offer each of you, not the least of which is the opportunity to return to the Fredericton campus to re-connect with old friends and the university itself.

We'll be offering such long-time traditions as the Maritime Lobster Boil Friday evening and the Golden Grad Dinner Saturday evening, as well as some innovations, such as the Proudly UNB Award Luncheon Saturday, where we'll be unveiling our expanded alumni recognition program. See page 24.

We'll also have plenty of ways to entertain you. At Homecoming 2000, the ever-popular Sons of Maxwell really had the Big Tent rocking after the lobster boil on Friday evening. And they're going to do it again this year.

And at the Aitken Centre Saturday evening, Natalie MacMaster will bring her fiddle to the stage. After winning numerous East Coast Music Awards for her early traditional Cape Breton recordings, Ms. MacMaster began taking Celtic music to new heights. She has won two Juno Awards, and several Canadian Country Music Awards for Fiddler of the Year.

But most of all, Homecoming is about you and your university, and the friends you made during your time at UNB. It's about pride; it's about loyalty.

These aspects of the event were touched upon by UNB President John McLaughlin during the official launch of Homecoming 2005 in October.

He said that during his time as president, he has talked to alumni from around the world who described their years at UNB as "a magical time."

"They came here to UNB, and connected with each other," Dr. McLaughlin said. "They realized the world was a much bigger place than they imagined, and it changed their lives."

"It's critical for us as a university to welcome these people home, to bring our family back, for Homecoming 2005. We want to showcase where UNB has been, where it is today, and where it's going."

PLEASE NOTE: If you plan to use the hard-copy form in this edition, a separate form is needed for each individual registrant. If you are registering more than one person, please photocopy the form, download another PDF form from our website, or contact the office, reunions@unb.ca.

The Sons of Maxwell, left, rocked the Big Tent on Friday night at Homecoming 2000. They'll do it again this year, same time, same place, at Homecoming 2005.

Homecoming 'Faculty Fest' activities

Administration

Faculty of Administration alumni are invited to attend a barbeque featuring a live jazz band on Friday, July 29, from 2-4 p.m. on the Upper Quad near the upper entrance of Tilley Hall. Get together with fellow grads, faculty and staff to share an afternoon of memories.

Arts

Join former classmates, current students, faculty and staff (past and present) at the Arts Faculty Garden Party on Friday, July 29, from 2-4 p.m. Enjoy live music, delectable finger foods, sparkling wine, and spirited conversation in front of the lower entrance to Tilley Hall.

Computer Science

The Faculty of Computer Science will welcome back CS grads on Friday, July 29, from 1-3 p.m. at a picnic lunch on the grassed area next to the Information Technology Centre, which is connected to Gillin Hall. Meet with former classmates, faculty and staff (past and present) and take an informative faculty tour.

Education

The Faculty of Education is looking forward to meeting with its alumni on Friday, July 29, from 1-4 p.m. Join current and retired faculty members to renew acquaintances at a barbeque in front of Marshall D'Avray Hall. Then attend our Open House.

Engineering

The Faculty of Engineering invites all of their alumni to a lunch on the patio in front of Head Hall on Friday, July 29, from 1-4 p.m. Enjoy an afternoon of renewing friendships and chatting with current and past faculty and staff. Then take a tour of the building and hear all about our ongoing work.

Forestry

The Faculty of Forestry and Environmental Management always enjoys having alumni visit so we are certainly looking forward to Homecoming 2005. On Friday, July 29, from 1-4 p.m. we have planned a lunch, tour of the building (you have to see our new murals), meet the dean, past and present professors and a presentation on the plans for the faculty! Also, we are looking for activity suggestions for the 2008 celebration of the founding of the faculty — we need your input. See you in July!

Kinesiology

The Faculty of Kinesiology invites its alumni to join them on Friday, July 29, from 2-4 p.m. to renew old friendship and meet with faculty and staff. First, visit the various labs, where graduate students and faculty will explain the current and on-going research being pursued in recreation and sport studies as well as in the sciences. The tour will include a stop by the dance studio and the new cardio room so that our alumni will be up-to-date on our "evolution." Alumni will then gather in the LBG for a wine-and-cheese reception with a "Down Memory Lane" presentation and the introduction to new and old faculty and staff and (by then) the newly appointed dean of kinesiology.

Law

The Faculty of Law will be welcoming all their alumni at a barbeque to be held on the Ludlow Hall patio on Friday, July 29, from 1-4 p.m. Be sure to drop by to renew friendships, meet with current and past faculty and staff and take a tour. Details for other activities are currently being developed and will be in the next Alumni News.

Nursing

The Faculty of Nursing will host a "tea" on Friday, July 29, from 2-4 p.m. in N102, the McPhedran Room (affectionately called the Pumpkin Room), MacLaggan Hall, to welcome all nursing alumni. Join your fellow classmates, faculty and staff to enjoy an afternoon of reminiscing and renewing of friendships. Then take a leisurely stroll through the familiar corridors and classrooms of your alma mater.

Science

The Faculty of Science would like to welcome all former students, faculty and staff to a gathering just outside the Brydone Jack Observatory on Friday, July 29, from 2-4 p.m. You'll enjoy meeting former classmates and faculty and reminiscing of years gone by. Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and wine will be served and you can take a tour of the observatory with Dr. Merrill Edwards as your host. Current activities of the faculty will be on display in the Science Library Concourse, where you'll enjoy a special musical treat.

Billet-A-Buddy, invite someone to stay with you

As we did with Homecoming 2000, we're encouraging alumni in the Fredericton area to take the initiative to get friends and classmates 'home' for Homecoming 2005. Call a friend — or two, or three or eight — from your UNB days and offer to put him/her/them up during the event. All they need is an invitation!

Wanted: Volunteers in Fredericton

The Homecoming 2005 committee will be in constant need of volunteers up to and including the event itself.

Last time around, in 2000, more than 250 people stepped up to help us with everything from event set-ups to driving shuttle vans, to organizing the small group reunions. Their assistance was key to the success of the event.

If you are in the Fredericton area and willing and able to offer your services in any capacity whatsoever, we'd love to hear from you. We can make use of talents you may not even realize you have!

For further information, please contact us at Tel: (506) 453-4847; Fax: (506) 453-4616; E-mail: alumni@unb.ca.

Saturday evening's dinner theatre was a sold-out attraction at the Thomas J. Condon Student Centre.

400 take part in UNBSJ's Celebration '04 events

They came to golf, they came to dance, they came to dinner – and discovered a treasure trove of alumni talent. Best of all, they simply came back. Some 400 UNB Saint John alumni and friends came out to share in the celebration of 40 years of UNBSJ during Celebration '04 Sept. 10-12.

Staged by the Saint John Alumni Action Team of the UNB Associated Alumni, Celebration '04 is being touted as a major success by both organizers and attendees. From Friday's sold-out golf tournament through Sunday's Back-To-Campus finale, everything went off without a hitch.

As expected, Saturday evening's dinner theatre proved the hit of the weekend as an impressive collection of alumni and student talent turned back the clock and took the capacity crowd on a 40-year journey through the history of SJ. Narrated by a collection of familiar voices (echoes of lectures past), the story was ably guided by "The Voice of God" who sounded – to no one's surprise – a lot like Dr. Tom Condon.

The Saint John Alumni Action Team extends thanks to the organizing committee and all who supported Celebration '04, in particular the many generous sponsors who made it all possible. Those sponsors included UNB Saint John, Meloche Monnex, Stewart McKelvey Stirling Scales, Moosehead Breweries, Labatt, Manulife Financial, Tempo Framing, Delta Brunswick Hotel, MBNA Canada Bank, Lawson & Creamer, Ganong Bros. Limited, Tabufile, and The Telegraph Journal.

Organizers are now in the process of documenting the event and collecting ideas for the future. Any one who participated and would like to pass on comments for consideration the next time around is encouraged to do so by contacting Mary Duffley in the Alumni Office on campus (648-5906, duffleym@unbsj.ca).

ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES

A special thanks to our alumni student recruiters

The UNB Associated Alumni would like to extend its heartfelt thanks to those alumni volunteers who attended student recruitment high school fairs on UNB's behalf.

A special thank-you to members of the Calgary Chapter: Nancy Burns (BSc'75), Christine Coldwell (BA'75, BEd'76), Renee Fleming (BScF'00), and Lesa George (BScChE'83); and the Edmonton Chapter: Sheldon Fall (BScCE'78), Ellen Hambrook (BEd'85), and Stu Muir (BBA'75).

Thank you for your support of UNB's ongoing student recruitment efforts.

Alumni student recruitment information receptions will be held in a number of communities throughout N.B., N.S., P.E.I., and Ontario in the coming months. Students interested in UNB Fredericton and their parents/guests are encouraged to attend, as are alumni who want to share their UNB experiences and memories with students considering UNB.

To find out if there is a reception in your area, please check out the UNB alumni website for locations and other recruitment activities or contact Alumni Student Recruitment Co-ordinator Shawna Pratt, spratt@unb.ca, (506) 453-4973, for more information.

Outreach Program gives you a chance to get involved!

Looking for some UNBeatable opportunities to stay connected with your alma mater? Do we ever have the program for you! Take a look at the Alumni website and check out the Alumni Outreach Program. You can become a Community Contact and act as a friendly voice for alumni moving to your area. Do you enjoy watching varsity sports? The Game Watch program would be perfect for you! Organize a group and get together with friends and colleagues to reminisce about the fun you had at UNB! All of these opportunities and more can be found at www.unb.ca/alumni/outreach or contact Lillian Ryan, the Outreach Co-ordinator, at 506-453-4904.

Ontario basketball alumni tee it up in Lindsay

On Sept. 25, the UNB Ontario Basketball Alumni held its sixth annual Golf Tournament at the new Lindsay Golf And Country Club. The event is organized by Mark Newell (BEd'86, CAUS'87) of Lindsay. This year there were 22 golfers at the tournament, with the oldest basketball alumni from the Class of '60. Players came from all over Ontario and several flew in from New Brunswick for the fun!

Alumni surveys pour in!

As we mentioned in the fall edition of Alumni News, we've decided to conduct an alumni survey to determine what your perceptions of the association are, and how we can provide better programs and services to you. The survey began in November under the direction of Vicki Lanteigne in the Alumni Office, and the response has been, in a word, phenomenal. At press time, more than 6,200 surveys had been returned to the office, the vast majority through our online form. Another reminder message went out in early December, so we expect to have even more results at the survey's end date early in January. Many thanks to the thousands of you who responded! Watch for further details about the results in the spring edition and on our website.

ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES

Alumni group tours Bhutan

Council elections set

Elections will be held this spring to fill four seats and the executive positions of treasurer and secretary on the Associated Alumni Council. Any interested member of the association should contact Executive Director Mark Hazlett at (506) 453-4884, e-mail haz@unb.ca, by March 1, 2005, for further details on the positions to be filled and the election process. Candidates will be announced in the spring edition of Alumni News, which will also contain a ballot. As well, a list of candidates and an online election ballot will be available on the alumni website after April 15.

Remember, keep your EFL accounts updated

Thousands of you have taken advantage of our free alumni E-Mail Forwarding for Life (EFL) service and claimed your accounts.

But it's vital that all users keep their EFL accounts updated with their current Mail Destination address, the one to which you want your EFL messages sent. For a quick check to ensure your account is current, please take a moment to visit your EFL file at www.unb.ca/alumni/efl.html.

Attention Tom Foulkes Sr. Scholarship Recipients.

The UNB Club of Ottawa would like to update its information on the recipients of their scholarship, which was established in 1982. Unfortunately, the club had been unable to get in touch with a number of the recipients. If you are a Tom Foulkes Sr. Scholarship recipient who hasn't heard from the UNB Club of Ottawa, please contact David Le Blanc at david.leblanc@unb.ca, or call 613-951-4043, so he can update the club's records. Thanks for your help.

ASSOCIATION ACTIVITIES

Alumni/Alumnae award $90,000 to students

The UNB Associated Alumni and the UNB Associated Alumnae have distributed $89,955 to 112 UNB students under their 2004-05 scholarships and awards program.

The awards were made to students on both the Fredericton and Saint John campuses.

The Associated Alumni and Associated Alumnae have been helping students through scholarships and awards for decades, primarily through their Alumni Entrance Scholarships, Alumni/Alumnae Undergraduate Scholarships and Alumni Merit Awards.

The top awards presented were the Alumni Council Leadership Awards, which go to students who demonstrate leadership at the university and in the community.

This year's leadership awards, valued at $2,385 each, or half a year's tuition, were awarded to Nicholas Ouellette, a third-year bachelor of computer science student on the Fredericton campus, Melissa Persaud, a third-year bachelor of science student on the Fredericton campus and Brendan Sheehan, a fourth-year bachelor of science student on the Saint John campus.

Mr. Ouellette has dedicated his academic career to benefiting student life. In 2003, he became an educational proctor for Neville House and continued that role this year. He is responsible for mentoring and supporting the students who live in this residence, focusing on academic and all-around well being. The UNB residence community recognized his contributions last year by nominating him as Rookie Proctor of the Year.

Mr. Ouellette also was appointed the 2003 co-ordinator for the Neville House Bed Push, and under his leadership new fund-raising initiatives increased donations by $5,000.

He is also involved with student government and was elected a student member of the UNB Board of Governors.

Ms. Persaud has contributed in many ways within the community and UNB. She has been involved with "Mercy Ships," a global charity that has operated a growing fleet of hospital ships in developing nations. She has also been a member of the Dr. Everett Chalmers Hospital volunteer staff at the geriatric and pediatric units, and worked with Aids New Brunswick as a co-chair for its committee.

Her strong leadership skills have led to her involvement with many on campus activities and organizations, such as the student alumni association (SPARC), health sciences society, faculty recruitment calling campaign, UNB's women's centre, the environmental society, UNB tutor, orientation volunteer and faculty peer mentor.

Mr. Sheehan is extremely active with student life at UNBSJ. He is involved in several societies, the Peer Mentor program, SPARC, varsity volleyball team, orientation, the Student Representative Council, the orientation and life committee, the teaching excellence and policy committee, and Shinerama.

Last summer, Mr. Sheehan embarked on a new and exciting leadership building experience. During May and June, he completed an internship at the Beijing Concord College in China, teaching second-year students Canadian culture to prepare them for life at UNBSJ.

In addition to on-campus leadership roles, Mr. Sheehan has made contributions to the community. He has been a basketball and baseball coach, cub leader, organizer of the Children's Liturgy Program, and a participant in the CIBC Run for the Cure and the Rally of Hope.

While both associations, through their revenue-generating activities, provide the money for the awards, the actual selection of the recipients is handled through the Undergraduate Awards Office under the direction of Assistant Registrar Kathy Waugh.

Leaving a Legacy

When the Fredericton Branch of the Canadian Federation of University Women (CFUW) received a bequest from the Estate of Dr. Ottis Logue (BScEE'46, MScEE'54, DSc'96), they decided to donate this unique gift to UNB to establish a scholarship in memory of Ottis's wife Marjorie (BSc'41, MSc'46). As Marjorie was a long-time member of the CFUW and a founder of their annual book sale, establishing a scholarship in her honor seemed fitting. The book sale, started in 1964, continues to the present day and has raised thousands of dollars for scholarships for women at UNB Fredericton. The CFUW also has a chapter in Saint John that provides scholarships for women on the Saint John campus. This thoughtful gift from the CFUW will serve as a reminder of this charming lady and her dedication to scholarship.

You can leave your own legacy.

Kathryn Manzer (Hart, BA) of Toronto died Oct. 7, 2004, after a short illness. For nearly four decades, she worked tirelessly for her community, particularly in areas concerning women and children. She was a vigorous advocate for improving and expanding French programs for Canadian children, serving successively as national vice-president, president, and immediate past president of Canadian Parents for French from 1985 to 1996. She was a founder and director from 1983 to 1991 of Le Camp, a bilingual summer program for children sponsored by Canadian Parents for French (Ontario) and Glendon College, York University. Kathryn was an active member of the University Women's Club of North York, including a term as its president in 1995-96, and a regional director for the Ontario Council of the Canadian Federation of University Women (CFUW). She initiated the Toronto caucus of CFUW clubs, and for the past five years her major project had been organizing the Toronto Caucus Dec. 6 Luncheon in support of the CFUW Polytechnic Award. In 1993, in recognition of her outstanding career as a volunteer, she was awarded the Ontario Medal for Good Citizenship. She will be terribly missed and always in the thoughts of her husband Ron (BA, BE'd'59) and her daughters Patricia and Jennifer. @

UNB names street after Pete Kelly

The name of Pete Kelly — a man synonymous with athletics at UNB in Fredericton — now graces a street on the campus.

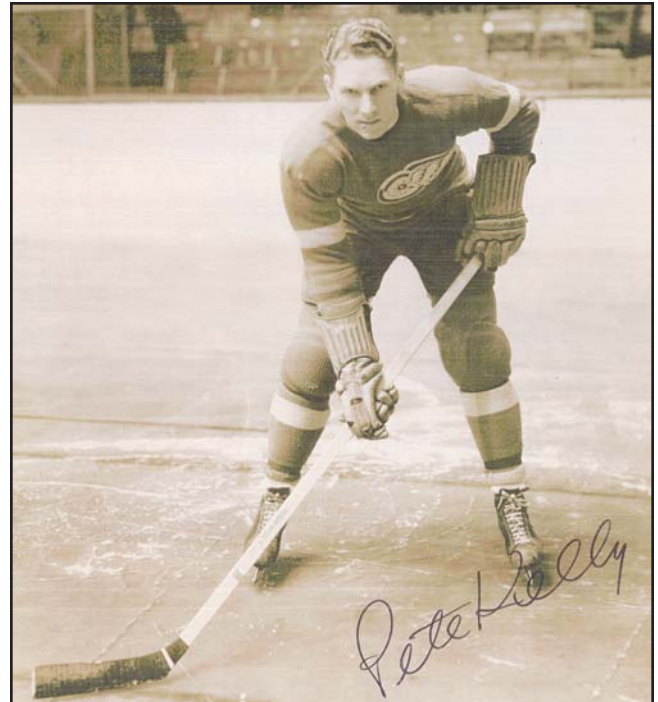

Peter Kelly Drive runs in front of the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium's main entrance.

The street was re-named in November in honor of Mr. Kelly, who passed away March 22, 2004, at the age of 91. Mr. Kelly spent 26 years as UNBF's athletics director. He coached the men's hockey team for 20 years, and retired from the university in 1978.

He arrived on campus in 1947 following a career in the National Hockey League, where he played in 181 games with the Detroit Red Wings, St. Louis Eagles, New York Americans and Brooklyn Americans.

Mr. Kelly won two Stanley Cups with Detroit in 1935-36 and 1936-37. In the 1936 series, Mr. Kelly scored the winning goal in Detroit's series-winning game over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

He was honored by UNB in 1973 for his distinguished work as an administrator and coach of varsity sports.

UNBSJ athletics looking to form alumni booster club

UNB Saint John's athletics department has a new name, a new logo and a new outreach program. The new Athletics, Recreation and Wellness Department (ARW) mission statement is to promote healthy lifestyle behaviors among students, faculty, staff and community members by providing opportunities for participation through sport, recreation, and wellness programs in a safe environment.

Currently, UNBSJ students have an opportunity to participate in varsity teams that compete in the ACAA league (N.B. and N.S. universities). In additions to the varsity programs, club activities and recreation programs, several monthly wellness workshops are offered through the department.

ARW is focusing on the local youth through an initiative called "Howl with the Wolves" program. This outreach program will see Seawolves athletes speak about the importance of life skills that can be developed through sports.

With all these exciting initiatives, the ARW department is looking for assistance and is proposing the Seawolves Alumni Booster Club. This club would consist of former Seawolves athletes and other alumni who are genuinely concerned about the varsity athletics program and are willing to raise money to improve existing programs. The club would also assist with ensuring the success of the athletics programs by donating their time.

The ARW Department is also seeking Seawolves' alumni to form a review committee that will focus on the future of the athletics at UNBSJ. If you are interested in the future of the Seawolves' athletics programs and would like to become a member of the first ever Seawolves Alumni Booster Club or assist with the review committee, please contact Athletics Director Monique Allain by e-mail at mallain@unbsj.ca or by phone at 653-2728.
