APPLICATIONS IN BIOLOGY, PART I (BIOL 1006)

Instruction and laboratory work dealing with applications of Biology at the level of biological molecules and the cell. Pre- or co-requisite: BIOL 1001 or BIOL 1009

GENERAL CHEMISTRY I (CHEM 1001)

An introduction to atoms and molecules, chemical equations and reactions, the periodic table, the electronic structure of atoms, and chemical bonding as well as an introduction to organic chemistry including structure and bonding, functional groups, isomers, and polymers. An adequate high school background in math, and chemistry is required.
INTRODUCTION TO SCIENCE FICTION (ENGL 2984)

An introduction to the study of literary science fiction. Students will consider some of the key historical and cultural events leading up to the period of this study (which will span approximately two hundred years, from the early nineteenth century to the later part of the twentieth century), and we will read several novels, a play, and a collection of short fiction. Classes involve lectures, discussions, and (optional) group work; clear and effective writing as well as critical thinking and reading are emphasized and encouraged.

CREATIVE WRITING: NON-FICTION (ENGL 3153)

A creative writing course aimed at developing skills in the writing of non-fiction. It involves prescribed readings, exercises, workshops, and discussions.
THE POLITICS OF REPRESSION

Examines a variety of thinkers and movements that are concerned with the question of repression. Attempts to answer such questions as: what is repression and what causes it? Are some groups in society particularly repressed? What are the varieties of repression?

CONTEMPORARY MARKETING ISSUES (ADM 4335)

Considers contemporary issues in marketing. Taught as a seminar-based course and requires readings and detailed discussions of articles relevant to the selected topics of enquiry.

INTRODUCTION TO CALCULUS I (MATH 1003)

Functions and graphs, limits, derivatives of polynomial, log, exponential and trigonometric functions. Curve sketching and extrema of functions. NOTE: Credit may be obtained for only one of MATH 1003, MATH 1053 or MATH 1823. NOTE: Part-time students will be charged a course fee for the MATH 1003 credit.

THE POLITICS OF REPRESSION (POL 3423)

Examines a variety of thinkers and movements that are concerned with the question of repression. Attempts to answer such questions as: what is repression and what causes it? Are some groups in society particularly repressed? What are the varieties of repression?

INTRODUCTION TO SPORT AND LEISURE PSYCHOLOGY (KIN 2032)

Provides an introduction into the psychological influence of sport, physical activity, and leisure on the individual. Current social psychological theory about sport, physical activity and leisure behaviour will be examined through a wide variety of sport, leisure, and exercise psychology topics.

SPORT, ANIMALS AND ETHICS (KIN 3092)

This seminar will explore the roles and relationships of humans and animals involved in sport, leisure and recreation, through an ethical lens. We will examine the morality of humans’ treatment of nonhuman animals in a variety of environments and the questions about the relationships we have with animals.

INTRODUCTORY SPANISH I (SPAN 1203)

Gives students solid background in the fundamentals of the Spanish language by engaging them in both classroom and computer laboratory settings in communicative use of the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing. Closed to students with any knowledge of Spanish.

HISTORY OF MUSIC IN MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE PERIODS (HIST 3765/MUS 3765)

Introduction to music between 800 and 1600, studying representative styles and putting this music in a historical perspective.
HISTORY OF SLAVERY (HIST 3615)

Studies ways in which Western slavery and emancipation were experienced, perceived, explained, symbolized and related to European attitudes. Focuses on the lives of African slaves.

INTRODUCTORY SPANISH II (SPAN 1204)

Continuation of SPAN 1203. Students will build on the materials covered in SPAN 1203. Emphasis will be placed on improved listening, speaking, reading and writing. Multimedia approach to language and culture will be used. Students will be acquainted with background on Hispanic culture. Prerequisite: SPAN 1203.

RELIGION, MAGIC AND WITCHCRAFT IN THE MEDIEVAL WORLD (HIST 1008)

This general interest course introduces students to the complex and fascinating realm of religious and scientific beliefs and magical practices maintained by people living during the high and late Middle Ages in Europe and the Middle East, from about 1200 AD to 1600 AD. Considerable attention will be paid to the development of the Inquisition against heresy, the growing fear over supposed diabolical conspiracies and the development of the diabolical witch stereotype in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

MEDIATION TRAINING - A.C.E. TRAINING (ADDRESSING CONFLICT EFFECTIVELY)

Gain the skills and knowledge to address conflict effectively in a work setting and in all aspects of your life. The workshop offers a mix of theory, integration and practice in an interactive and supportive environment.

Participants will develop confidence and gain the knowledge and skills required to address conflict effectively and restore fractured relationships, which can be destructive in the work environment.

Employers will gain skills to develop, retain, and engage employees and increase productivity. In today’s workplace, complaints of bullying and harassment are prevalent. Investing in conflict resolution training builds the bench-strength that your organization needs to address human resource challenges.

The program consists of two parts (2.5 days each) Part 1: April 14-16 Part 2: May 12-14 Fredericton $1725

This program is the first of its kind in Atlantic Canada to meet the coursework requirements needed to apply for BACB® Registered Behavior Technician™ (RBT®) Credential. The program is based on the RBT Task List and is designed to exceed the 40-hour training requirement for the credential. The program is offered independent of the BACB®. Visit bacb.com/rbt for details.
Completely online! Work at your own pace in a supportive environment.

One of the most critical issues currently facing Canada’s intervention sector is a shortage of skilled labour to fill the growing demand for FASD diagnosis, intervention, and support. This program is designed to provide participants with the essential skills to apply in a variety of roles and support sectors. A certificate of proficiency will be granted upon completion of the entire series.

24 weeks, 6 online modules and five 2-hour workshops via Zoom

TOPICS INCLUDE:
• Introduction to FASD
• Prevention, Economics, and Life Planning
• Intervention

• Diagnosis Component
• Community Systems
• An Integrated Approach to FASD

Helping Safety Practitioners Find Their Voice. Safety practitioners have the technical training and know-how to ensure their companies operate safely. To be effective in their role, they need to be skilled at influencing the senior management team and building consensus with the entire employee group. Safety practitioners typically have the technical hard skills, but also need to develop their soft skills, leadership skills, and potential. The Certificate in Safety Leadership helps participants through the development of specific skills, knowledge, and abilities required to gain influence, build consensus, and successfully create positive change in the organizations where they work.
