

SGS WINTER NEWSLETTER

Welcome to the start of another winter term here at UNB! A lot has changed at UNB and around the world since our last newsletter, so we thought it would be a great time to reintroduce the tradition of informing new and current students on some of the routines that may have changed over the past year, or may have a new look and feel.

The Winter 2022 edition of our student newsletter will be jam-packed with tips and tricks that will help kick off the start of another term here at UNB smoothly, including information on our new Student Planning and Course Registration resources, important dates to keep in mind in the coming weeks, key resources across both our Fredericton and Saint John campuses, and more!

On behalf of the team in the School of Graduate Studies, we would like to wish all of our graduate community a safe and happy holiday, and look forward to the beginning of another winter term in the New Year!

ACADEMIC PLANNING AND REGISTRATION

Where you plan and register for your courses has changed!

Students can now log into the recently launched My UNB Intranet for all of their student planning and registration needs, as well as find a variety of other resources available to them during their time at UNB.

Early registration for both course based and research based students can play a crucial role in ensuring the start of the term gets off to a smooth start, especially for those students receiving assistantship and scholarship funding.

Not quite familiar with the new online registration tool? Check out these handy resources to help guide you along the way!

CHECK OUT OUR BLOG!

The GRADOSPHERE launched as a space to connect with our graduate community and showcase the incredible research and accomplishments of both our students and faculty. Since launching, the blog has showcased several accomplishments of our graduate students and faculty members ranging from the experiences of our Three Minute Thesis competitors, to telling the stories of some of our national level award winners.

Check out a couple of our favorites!
