CONGRATULATIONS!

GRADUATES: CONGRATULATIONS!

Today is your day. Graduation celebrates not only the completion of your academic journey, but the perseverance, curiosity and determination that brought you to this moment.

As members of the UNB family, we come together to mark this extraordinary milestone and to honour all that you have accomplished.

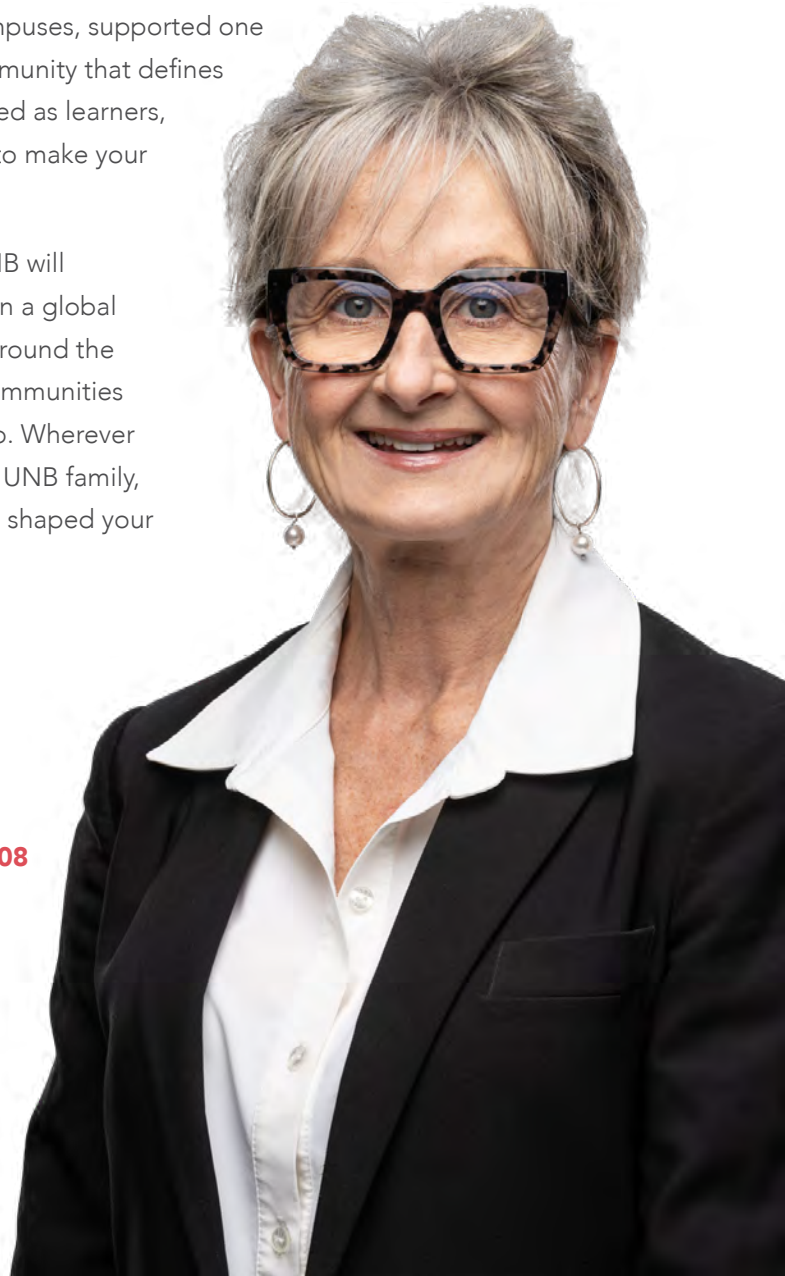

During your time at UNB, you challenged yourselves, discovered your strengths and grew in ways that will shape your lives well beyond the classroom. You contributed to our campuses, supported one another and helped build the vibrant community that defines the University of New Brunswick. You arrived as learners, and today you graduate as leaders ready to make your mark!

As you take your next steps, know that UNB will always be part of your story. Today, you join a global UNB family of more than 100,000 alumni around the world, graduates who are shaping their communities through service, innovation and leadership. Wherever your journey leads, you remain part of the UNB family, carrying with you the values and spirit that shaped your time here.

With warmest congratulations,

KATHY WILSON, RN, BN'87, MN, PhD'08
Acting President and Vice Chancellor

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We respectfully acknowledge that UNB stands on the unsurrendered and unceded traditional Wolastoqey land.

The lands of Wabanaki people are recognized in a series of Peace and Friendship Treaties to establish an ongoing relationship of peace, friendship and mutual respect between equal nations.

The river that runs through our city is known as Wolastoq, along which live Wolastoqiyik — the people of the beautiful and bountiful river. Wolastoq is also called the St. John River.

CEREMONIAL TRADITIONS

ENCAENIA AND CONVOCATION

Graduation brings together the entire University community — students, faculty, administrators, staff and alumni. The official components of the celebration take place on the platform.

The University of New Brunswick's Fredericton campus is one of the few institutions in North America that refers to its spring graduation ceremonies as Encaenia. The term comes from the Greek word encaenia, meaning "festival of the founders." The first Encaenia was held in Fredericton on June 24, 1830, at what was then King's College (later UNB). Introduced by Oxford graduate Edwin Jacob, the first and only head of King's College, Encaenia did not begin as a traditional graduation ceremony. Over time, the founders' tributes, speeches and reports gradually gave way to the awarding of degrees and the recognition of student accomplishments. The Fredericton campus also holds Convocation each October.

The University of New Brunswick's Saint John campus, established in September 1964, held its first convocation ceremony in May 1975. Since then, the Saint John campus has celebrated Spring Convocation in May and Fall Convocation in October each year.

USE OF LATIN

Although Latin has long ceased to be the language of instruction for all university courses, as it once was at Oxford and Cambridge, at Paris and Bologna, we have retained it at UNB for limited use on occasions of great academic solemnity, such as Encaenia and Convocation. The use of Latin today is a symbol of our academic descent from those earliest universities of medieval Europe and a humble reminder that the search for truth is both ancient and new.

Latin is used at the beginning of each ceremony, before the Mace is set on its ceremonial stand by the University Secretary and the Sacred Bundle has been laid by the Piluwitahasuwin and Associate Vice President, Indigenous Engagement. The President will then petition the Chancellor to begin the ceremony.

Praeses: Amplissime Cancellari, placetne tibi ut officium incipiat?
Cancellari: Placet.

President: Most noble Chancellor, is it your pleasure that the ceremony begins?
Chancellor: It is my pleasure.

Latin is also used in the supplication before the degree conferral.

WOLASTOQ HONOUR SONG

An Honour song is a nation's anthem. It honours who we are, respecting and identifying the people. It is typically sung at the beginning of an event or gathering and all in attendance are asked to stand while it's being sung.

The first Piluwitahasuwin at UNB worked with a number of talented singers to prepare the version of the Wolastoq Honour Song which is shared at academic ceremonies such as graduation.

THE SACRED BUNDLE

The Sacred Bundle is a wrapped collection of sacred items held by a designated carrier. The keeper of the Sacred Bundle carries a responsibility of courage to maintain truth in all interactions and has an obligation to promote unity within diversity. It also provides an obligation to encourage building of respectful and sacred relationships within the university. The ceremonial contents of the Sacred Bundle will provide guidance toward the shared task of forging a new path within the promise of Piluwitahasuwawsuwakon (forging a new path toward truth and reconcili-action).

The Sacred Bundle

THE MACE

The Mace, which symbolizes the authority of the university to award degrees, was officially used for the first time at UNB's 167th Encaenia in May 1996.

A gift of the university's fourth modern-day Chancellor, the late Fredrik S. Eaton, OC, the Mace was proposed by the late Colin B. Mackay, OC, QC, President Emeritus. It measures 4.5 feet in length and features an antique silver cup atop a butternut shaft.

The Mace

The George II, two-handled cup was given to the university in 1995 by the late S. A. H. Bridge, the great-great-grandson of Sir Howard Douglas, Bar't. It was once part of a collection of fine silverware presented to Sir Howard by the people of New Brunswick when he returned to England, after serving as Lieutenant Governor (1823-1831). During his term, Sir Howard took great interest in the institution then known as the College of New Brunswick. He persuaded the British government to grant it a Royal Charter, as King's College, and to provide half the funding for the construction of what is now the oldest university building still in use in Canada.

The cup, hallmarked LONDON 1734, is predated by its cover which bears a 1728 hallmark. The armorial engraving on the upper half of the cup and the crest and motto on the cover are those of Douglas of Kirkness, County Kinross.

New Brunswick artisan, the late Michiel Oudemans, created the staff for the Mace. Crafted from butternut, a wood common to the province, the staff features elements of the UNB coat of arms and symbols of New Brunswick: a book of learning, beavers (in honour of Lord Beaverbrook, the university's first modern-day Chancellor), a galley, fiddleheads and Atlantic salmon.

COAT OF ARMS

The UNB coat of arms was approved by the Board in May 1956. In 1996, it was "repatriated" at a ceremony at Rideau Hall. The late Governor General Roméo LeBlanc presided over the registration of the symbol with the Canadian Heraldic Authority.

Within the coat of arms, the university celebrates its roots, founders and history. The beavers, representing Lord Beaverbrook's commitment to UNB; the book, carrying UNB's motto, represents knowledge and education; and the ship is from New Brunswick's coat of arms.

SEAL

The current UNB seal was created in 1968. The Latin on the rim states it is the seal of The University of New Brunswick. The text on the left-hand page of the book reads in Hebrew, "In the Beginning, God Created the Heavens and the Earth… and the Spirit of God moved upon the Face of [the waters]." On the right-hand the Greek text reads, "The Gospel According to Saint John," followed by the first six words of the first verse of John's gospel, "In the beginning was the Word."

The seal appears on official UNB documents, including degree parchments, contracts and other legal documents.

ALUMNI PIN

In 2000, the UNB Associated Alumni began the tradition of presenting alumni pins to graduates. The pin carries memories of a life-changing experience at UNB and serves as a symbol that graduates will always be part of the alumni family of more than 100,000 worldwide. UNB alumni are leaders and innovators, driving change and transforming knowledge into action in communities around the globe. As our graduates pave their own path and inspire others along the way, we hope they wear their UNB alumni pin with pride.

INDIGENOUS AND AFRICAN GRADUATION STOLES

From left: UNB stole worn by African and African diaspora graduands, UNB stole worn by First Nation, Inuit and Métis graduands.

Graduation stoles are worn by some graduands to recognize and celebrate the histories, cultures and identities of First Nation, Inuit and Métis students, as well as African and African diasporic students. These stoles serve as a meaningful symbol of heritage and culture, while marking this significant academic milestone.

RECESSIONAL

At the close of the ceremony, following the singing of O Canada, the audience is asked to remain standing, if members are able, until the platform party and graduates recess.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

DR. DONALD MCALPINE is a biodiversity scientist and museum curator whose career at the New Brunswick Museum spans more than four decades. He earned a BA from UNB in 1979, an MSc in 1988 and a PhD in biology in 1996. He joined the museum in 1981, became curator of zoology and served as head of the department of natural history for periods in the 1980s and 1990s and continuously since 2006.

Donald's work brings together research, collections and public engagement. He has published more than 270 articles dealing with the fauna of Atlantic Canada in technical journals, books, conference proceedings and popular publications.

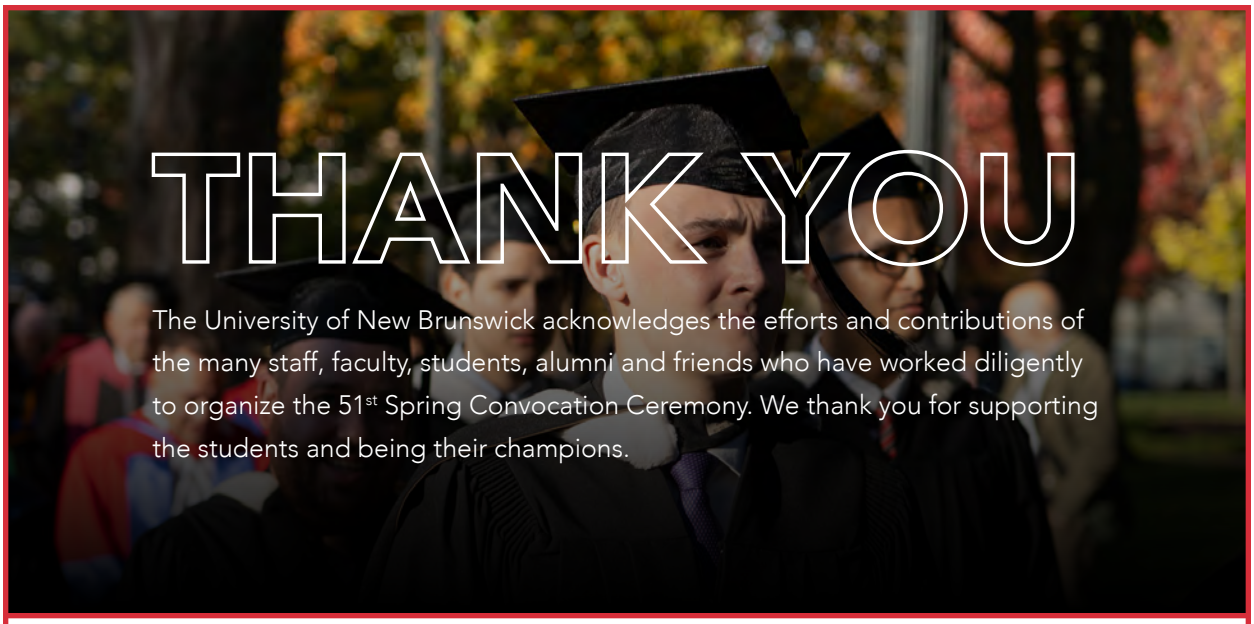

His studies have addressed emerging issues such as white-nose syndrome in bats, climate-change-induced range shifts in insects and small mammals, and the introduction of invasive molluscs and crayfish. He co-edited a comprehensive volume on species diversity in the Atlantic Maritime Ecozone and helped produce practical identification tools used by field workers and students.

At the museum, Donald has guided significant growth and modernization of the natural history collections, including the acquisition of significant holdings of marine mammals, freshwater molluscs and insects, all now consulted regularly by researchers worldwide. He has designed or overseen exhibitions and created paths for students and volunteers to learn specimen preparation, field methods and data curation.

In 2009 he founded, and until his retirement in 2024 led, BiotaNB, a biodiversity inventory program in New Brunswick Protected Natural Areas. BiotaNB continues under a new generation of leaders. Each year BiotaNB brings together taxonomic specialists from across North America, students, volunteers and artists for two weeks of intensive fieldwork and a community open house. The program has produced about 60 scientific papers and helped train a generation of naturalists and biologists.

Donald has mentored more than 20 MSc students and several PhD students as a supervisor or committee member, given frequent guest lectures, and widely collaborated with universities and agencies. National awards have honoured his work in conservation and museums, and a special journal issue has highlighted his impact on natural history research in the Maritimes.

Donald's career is one of rigorous field science, careful stewardship of collections and a commitment to sharing knowledge with the public. He remains closely tied to UNB and to the province he has served for a lifetime.

THANK YOU

The University of New Brunswick acknowledges the efforts and contributions of the many staff, faculty, students, alumni and friends who have worked diligently to organize the 51st Spring Convocation Ceremony. We thank you for supporting the students and being their champions.

WELCOME TO THE UNB ALUMNI FAMILY

Congratulations graduates! Today we celebrate you and all that you've accomplished during your time at UNB. Crossing the stage marks the beginning of a lifelong connection to your alma mater as #ProudlyUNB alumni.

You're part of a family of more than 100,000 alumni worldwide. UNB alumni are leaders and innovators, transforming knowledge into action in communities around the globe. Your role starts by staying connected. You now have access to exclusive perks, programs and services designed to support you in all stages of life, encourage continuous learning and keep you connected to your university and peers following graduation.

Make the most of your alumni experience:

1. Let us know your preferred email at unb.ca/alumniupdate to stay in the loop!
2. Take advantage of alumni-exclusive perks and discounts
3. Explore our virtual and continuous learning programs
4. Connect with fellow alumni at network events around the world
5. Get inspired by our Alumni News digital magazine
6. Purchase a diploma frame and display your degree with pride
7. Follow @unbalumni on social media

Graduates, we can't wait to see where you go and what you do!
You are one of 100,000 reasons we are proud.

PHOTOGRAPHY AND LIVESTREAM

One photo will be taken of each graduate on the stage. In June, graduates will be able to download print quality photographs at UNB.ca/graduation.

Each ceremony is livestreamed and broadcast at UNB.ca/graduation. UNB is committed to protecting personal information. If you have any privacy concerns, contact the University Secretariat, at secretariat@unb.ca or (506) 453-4613.
