

Employment Opportunities

Dept. of Biology - UNBF

Graduate Student Teaching Assistants (GSTA)

FALL 2026

The following Graduate Student Teaching Assistant (GSTA) positions are available within the Department of Biology, UNBF

Course: BIOL2721 Human Physiology II

Positions available: 2 GSTA positions

Instructor: Kenneth D'Souza

Hours: 52hr/lab/term

Rate of pay: $29.92 (MSc) / $31.24 (PhD)

*Note: Collective Agreement currently in negotiations and new wages will be applied retroactively upon ratification of the agreement.

Employment Date: September 8 – December 21, 2026

Labs (Days & Times):

T 2:30PM – 4:00PM TH 1:00PM - 2:30PM

W 2:30PM – 4:00PM TH 2:30PM – 4:00PM

Course Description:

This course is a continuation of BIOL 1782 with emphasis on metabolism, muscle and bone physiology, immune responses and healing. Limited enrollment; Kinesiology students have first priority. Biology majors and minors cannot count this course as a Biology credit, only as an elective.

Skills Required:

Strong organizational skills required. Preference will be given to those who have an undergraduate background in mammalian Physiology.

Important:

Students may apply for two lab sections (104hrs) but must demonstrate they are available for all lab periods on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

DEADLINE DATE TO APPLY: August 21, 2026

To Apply:

- 1.) Include a cover letter, current resume, and an unofficial transcript of your marks
- 2.) Apply to: Jenna Meade, Dept. of Biology, UNBF
- 3.) Application submission: email: jenna.meade@unb.ca

"This position is covered by the Collective Agreement negotiated between PSAC, on behalf of the Union of Graduate Student Workers (UGSW) Local 60550, and UNB" as well as "The University of New Brunswick and the Public Service Alliance of Canada are committed to Employment Equity."