of our students plan to stay in the region upon graduation. In fact, 30% of our alumni just celebrated 10 years in our community, many still working for the same employers who hired them upon graduation.

"I was blown away with all aspects of Kandarp's work from initial planning, thorough analysis and assessments through to his findings and presentation. He is very independent and definitely one of the top students I have worked with in my management consulting and IT career.

Kandarp came into an industry and business that he knew nothing about, yet he was able to quickly communicate and execute the steps he needed to accomplish in a very short period of nine weeks. His work was very structured and focused on the end goal through the engagement. He is the full package of consultant, change manager and analyst who is very capable of operating on his own and is open to directions and guidance."
